

Apprenticeships

For those who want to jumpstart their careers in high demand fields, apprenticeships combine full-time employment with hands-on training and classroom instruction, allowing you to gain valuable skills and college credits—all while advancing your career.

Earn While You Learn!

VTSU's Advanced Manufacturing Apprenticeship Programs allow you to work full-time, earn a competitive wage, and advance your education—all at the same time!

Earn a Salary

These apprenticeships are designed for full-time employees, so you can earn a paycheck while gaining valuable skills.

Future Opportunities

The college credits you earn can be applied toward associate or bachelor's degrees if you want to keep advancing your education and career.

Classroom Learning

Get the theory and technical knowledge you need from Vermont State University faculty to complement your on-the-job training.

Career Advancement

Graduates earn industry-recognized credentials and college credits, paving the way for future educational and career growth.

More information

jal01071@vermontstate.edu

802.369.8664

Vermont State University

